Stocks-June's Here! Are You Ready?
June 2022

June 1 2022

The stock market limped out of May with another loss for Nasdaq and miniscule gain on the S&P 500 despite a frantic end of month spurt based on short covering (shorts declined about every day last week) and high frequency traders pressing the weak side of the market (the offer side as most all sold by SPX 3800) and throw in money managers who needed to window dress at EOM (can't tell the boss you're sitting on cash during a 350 pt. run in SPX!). That is history...What's Next?

TODAY; we start of what might be the most significant Fed move we will see ..it's a wild card (QUANTATATIVE TIGHTENING)

This where the Fed tries to UNWIND the enormous balance sheet created during the stimulus for Covid. This means that rather than buying T-Bills & Mortgages; they are either letting them run of or selling them. Big Brother is no longer the bid.

Now in "dealer" markets; we rely on them for LIQUIDITY...Good Luck with that one...Mortgage rates are already up 50%

This FRIDAY; we will get the Unemployment Report (2-1 avails to seekers) which should be strong and we'll watch wages.

NEXT WEEK; we get the Consumer Price Index (CPI) & unless they back out everything you buy...it should be elevated still.

JUNE 14-15; we get the Fed meeting where the entire planet (maybe even the universe) knows we will get a 50 BP hike.

We have told our loyal readers since last year that VALUATIONS would compress and they have from 22-23 to about 17+.

If the SPX rallies to 4300 or so the P/E will be about 19...way higher than 2018 (14-15 when the 10yr was here). Stretched!

We see near term technical resistance SPX 4180-4270-4450 and support at 4080. Bonds-Oil-Gold-Grain are at key junctures.

In Bonds; will we see a sell the rumor (yields already rose to 3.20%) and sell the fact (yields decline) with Fed-Jobs & CPI?

In Stocks; will we see a further REVERSION to the mean (back toward moving averages) or resume the REVALUATION story?

In Oil & Oil stocks, Gold, Grains, Fertilizers, Ag firms; will we see a rollover in prices or are going parabolic to absurd pricing?

It would be nice to have the TOOLS to deal with either eventuality. It would be nice to know the uses & risks of those tools.
