OptionProfessor Alert: The Stock Market Calls the Dogs Off-How Long?

Stock Market...if you like volatility...you came to the right place! Of course; this is peoples life savings right?

That may be precisely the point. We are going into EARNINGS season for the quarter BEHIND us and of course the jobs report, services industries, B of A data suggested the Alfred E Newman "what me worry" philosophy reigned supreme.

We told reader that we have the EXACT set up we had in Feb March and May June when the VIX goes into the 30's and the SPX QQQ IWM are WAY UNDER their moving averages and a reversion to the mean can give you 400-600 SPX points in short order (of course only to give them back and then some). The BIG QUESTION is will it last & should you fade it

BASIS SPX ..In JUNE we made new lows UNDER May lows and rallied toward one of our levels of resistance. We got a big pull back near EOM and then went back & forth in JULY before going to SPX 4350. We are MONITORING the SPX 3820 area which is our LEVEL to WATCH. Should we FAIL going into the Fed meeting Nov 1-2 -Choppy BUT get good news from the JOBS & CPI (Nov 4 & 10) & the JOBS Report Dec 2...then all clear into seasonality & EOY & Portfolio Rebound.

HOWEVER...unless we see a TURN in M2 Money Supply Growth & Cracks in inflation and Jobs & Wages...Fed is NOT done.....and a BEAR MARKET delayed is not BEAR MARKET denied....without M2 Growth & the Fed...might be a good idea to not look a gift horse in the mouth if we see an EOY-January Effect stampede....may make 2023 that more rough
